I said in an earlier post that I would explain when it was formalized and I filled out the W-4 today. I've accepted an appointment in the Alaska Department of Administration. It is a policy formulation and implementation position subordinate to the Deputy Commissioner of the Department.

In a job like that if you speak, it is the State of Alaska speaking, so you check your private citizen notions of free speech when you sign the oath and the W-4. So with this I'm going to deactivate the FB account and bid all my friends a fond farewell; it has been a pleasure carrying on a conversation with you for all these years. I'll be back when I'm fired or tired. My best to you all.
